Mission Statement

OUR PURPOSE

To inspire and challenge audiences everywhere through the music we play.

OUR VISION

To be considered one of the greatest chamber orchestras in the world, renowned for the integrity and excellence of our musicianship, the boldness, vitality and distinctive character of our programs, as well as our commitment to our audiences, present and future. We will be fuelled by the loyalty and growth of our audiences and supporters.

OUR PRINCIPLES

- 01 People: From the stage to behind the scenes our team is a passionate, dedicated and diverse family. We never stop looking for ways to bring something new to what we do. Every day we inspire audiences and each other with our ambition, enthusiasm and openness.
- 02 Performance: With a fearless and explosive style, our performances push the boundaries of music in unexpected and inventive ways.
- 03 Program: Our programs weave together the familiar and the adventurous, encouraging audiences to discover and experience something new.
- 04 Initiatives: Our initiatives embrace audiences, communities and collaborators from all corners of the globe. We encourage access to our musicians and their instruments to share knowledge, imagination and inspiration – helping shape the musicians of tomorrow.

2019 Overview

“This chamber string ensemble has the scope of a symphony orchestra many times its size.”

– THE TIMES UK, 7 OCTOBER 2019

“It’s not easy getting a bead on the particular strengths of the Australian Chamber Orchestra. That’s because this terrific string ensemble seems to shine at anything it undertakes.”

– SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, 1 APRIL 2019

“The ACO plays with supple poise and meticulous attention to style over a span of nearly three centuries of music. The seamless blend of themed programs continues to delight and excite, even after decades of Richard Tognetti’s stimulating programming and the stellar artistic standards he requires of his performers and associates. These he consistently delivers in spades.”

– THE AUSTRALIAN, 5 JANUARY 2019

Artistic Director Report

RICHARD TOGNETTI
Artistic Director & Lead Violin

I have always been fascinated with mixing and melding music, both between genres and with other disciplines, be it visual art, film, dance or theatre.

I have always been fascinated with mixing and melding music, both between genres and with other disciplines, be it visual art, film, dance or theatre. This was reflected in our programming throughout 2019, a year where we performed in concert halls from Wollongong Town Hall to New York's Lincoln Center, reaching over 110,000 people in-person and millions more online through digital streaming.

2019 saw the revival of Luminous, our multimedia collaboration with one of the world's great artists, photographer Bill Henson. This marked our third iteration of Luminous, and the production featured new photography and filming from Bill, captured with his characteristically forensic attention to detail, as well as the ACO debut of Israeli-Australian singer Lior on vocals.

Our Indies & Idols concert saw the ACO delve into the orchestral music of artists more commonly associated with the world of indie-rock – Jonny Greenwood, Bryce Dessner and Sufjan Stevens – which we paired with the music of their compositional idols: Polish nationals Karol Szymanowski, Witold Lutosławski and Krzysztof Penderecki. While Jonny, Bryce and Sufjan don't hail from backgrounds that you'd typically expect of so-called 'classical' composers, I've found them to be some of the most innovative and exciting voices in orchestral music – and, going from the full concert halls we encountered across this tour, I'm not alone in this opinion.

We reunited with exceptional musicians from around the globe, from the Estonian Philharmonic Chamber Choir for a celebration of the music of JS Bach and Arvo Pärt, to pianist Dejan Lazić, violist Brett Dean and violinist Lorenza Borrani, while in March, we welcomed US saxophonist Branford Marsalis, who made his ACO debut in a fiery Latin-infused program directed by Principal Violin Satu Vänskä. We also welcomed back Finnish violinist Pekka Kuusisto, who in addition to leading ACO Collective on a tour of regional Victoria and South Australia, gave the world premiere of Nico Muhly's violin concerto, Shrink, commissioned for him by the ACO.

Of the 141 concerts we gave in 2019, 11 of them were performed overseas. In April we returned to North America in what marked our nineteenth tour to the continent, where we travelled from the West to East Coasts to give performances in concert halls including New York's Lincoln Center, Stanford University's Bing Concert Hall and Princeton University's Richardson Auditorium. This was followed by our return to London in October for our second season in residence at the Barbican Centre, where we performed programs that spanned from the UK premiere of Luminous to Bernard Labadie's string orchestra arrangement of Bach's Goldberg Variations, as well as a concert that saw us joined onstage by the extraordinary students of the Guildhall School of Music and Drama.

I extend thanks to my ACO colleagues, who continue to inspire and invigorate me each year. In particular, I thank Principal Violin Satu Vänskä and Principal Cello Timo-Veikko Valve, who gave outstanding solo performances in 2019, as well as Principal Violin Helena Rathbone, who led the young guns of ACO Collective through a tour of regional NSW and Queensland in October. I also welcome our new Ripieno Viola, Elizabeth Woolnough, who passed her probation in July, as well as Stefanie Farrands, who following an extensive international search, commenced her probation as the ACO's Principal Viola in November.

Finally, I thank our audiences across Australia and abroad. Thank you for the enthusiasm, trust and support with which you greet us each year – it is a privilege to join you all in the concert hall.

I extend thanks to my ACO colleagues, who continue to inspire and invigorate me each year.

Chairman & Managing Director Report

2019 was a year that the ACO dived headfirst into exploring illuminating new music and energising collaborations.

In reflecting upon 2019, one of our more successful years to date, it is impossible not to note that through the lens of our prior year of operation, this report is being written in inconceivable circumstances. COVID-19 is having a catastrophic impact on the arts industry. Fortunately, the ACO has been able to act swiftly and deftly. Our support base has responded with their usual generosity to assist in ameliorating a year without our much needed commercial and box office revenues. We remain hopeful that a safe performing environment will be returned in the final quarter of 2020 so that we can once again cautiously get our musicians and staff back to their regular hours of work, returning to audiences on our national stages.

Remembering happier and more predictable times, 2019 was a year that the ACO dived headfirst into exploring illuminating new music and energising collaborations. Under the inimitable leadership of Artistic Director Richard Tognetti, the Orchestra continued to present great music of the past alongside ground-breaking music of today, with each program in 2019 containing music from one or more living composers. This included seven world premieres and seven Australian premieres of new works by pioneering composers such as Nico Muhly and Missy Mazzoli and including Australia's own Brett Dean, Paul Stanhope and Heather Shannon.

In an artistic highlight of 2019, Richard Tognetti reunited with iconic Australian artist Bill Henson for a reimagining of Luminous, the ACO's multi-sensory musical and visual feast, while in June the Orchestra continued its exploration of innovative and experimental programming through its critically acclaimed Indies & Idols tour.

The sublime voices of the Estonian Philharmonic Chamber Choir re-joined the ACO onstage for the first time in 20 years for a performance of JS Bach and Arvo Pärt, while legendary saxophonist Branford Marsalis made his ACO debut in a vivid program inspired by Latin American jazz directed by Principal Violin Satu Vänskä. The season also saw the return of favourite ACO collaborators including pianist Dejan Lazić, violist Brett Dean, and keyboardist Erin Helyard, as well as Finnish violinist Pekka Kuusisto, who led ACO Collective through a regional tour, three concerts at our Vasse Felix festival and a special one-night-only performance at the Melbourne Recital Centre.

The ACO maintained its position as Australia's most-travelled orchestra, embarking on two international tours in 2019. The first saw Richard Tognetti lead the Orchestra on a two-week tour of North America, during which the

The ACO's Learning & Engagement program continued to grow from strength to strength in 2019, delivering 129 music education events to over 7,000 young people across Australia.

San Francisco Chronicle declared, "this terrific string ensemble shines at anything it undertakes." In October the ACO returned to London for its second season in residence as International Associate Ensemble at Milton Court at the Barbican Centre. The only Australian orchestra to hold an international residency, these concerts marked the mid-point of the ACO's three-year partnership with the prestigious concert venue.

The ACO is fortunate to have a broad international network of advocates who support these international touring activities, including our ACO US and ACO UK Board of Directors, and the ACO Japan Advisory Committee. We thank these groups for their ongoing advice, advocacy, and support.

The ACO's Learning & Engagement program continued to grow from strength to strength in 2019, delivering 129 music education events to over 7,000 young people across Australia. This included the ACO's first concert season for young children and their families, There's A Sea in My Bedroom, presented in partnership with the Sydney Opera House. Based on the iconic children's book by Margaret Wild and featuring immersive new music by composer Paul Stanhope, There's A Sea in My Bedroom was performed by a quintet of ACO musicians to a wonderfully receptive and engaged young audience, and we greatly look forward to presenting more of these concerts in the future.

Our digital footprint continued to grow throughout 2019, with the live stream of our final national concert of the year, 'Brahms & Dvořák', reaching over 3.9 million people around the world via Facebook. In addition, we released a new recording, Haydn Mozart, under the ABC Classic label, which features Richard Tognetti leading the ACO through a selection of glorious Haydn and Mozart symphonies, performed with the ACO's trademark flair and virtuosity.

The ACO Instrument Fund received seven new investments in 2019 to the value of $608,797. With four exceptional Golden Age string instruments currently in its collection, the Fund is currently on a search for a fifth rare string instrument that will meet its investment objectives.

From a financial standpoint, we are pleased to report a consolidated overall surplus of $3,194,648 (before comprehensive income adjustments). This result consists of a surplus of $936,652 from the ACO New Premises Project, unrealised gains from investments of $738,506 while underlying Operations delivered a surplus of $1,519,490 after realised investment returns.

The ACO has a long-held desire to have its own home and in 2019 remained in the final planning stages of securing new premises as part of the revitalised Walsh Bay Arts Precinct Project at Pier 2/3. The ACO estimates that the cost of all fit out, fittings, government payments, design and consultancy and relocation costs to deliver its home on Pier 2/3 will be in excess of $20 million.

To support its aspirations for a home for the ACO, the ACO continued the 'quiet' phase of a capital campaign for this visionary project. The ACO has been delighted with the generous early support received, $1,213,750 in cash donations were received during 2019 (life-to-date support as at 31 December 2019 $9,277,759).

In early 2020 the ACO signed Agreements for Sublease with the NSW Government for its new premises in the Walsh Bay Arts Precinct Project at Pier 2/3. As mentioned above, the ACO has been impacted by the evolving situation surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic and the unprecedented restrictions on mass gatherings for live performances and travel bans. The inability to hold performances presents significant adverse impacts on operations in 2020 and beyond. The final magnitude of the financial impact is not currently known. However, combined with the ACO's commitment towards the new premises project, COVID-19 puts significant pressure on the Group's cash flows. The ACO continues to monitor and adjust operations to reduce the cash flow pressures of the Group.

The breadth of these activities – from our national and international touring activities, to our growing learning and engagement programs, to our expanding digital output – would not be possible without the vital and much-appreciated contributions of our supporters. On behalf of the ACO, we extend our thanks to the Australia Council for the Arts and Create NSW, our corporate partners and our philanthropic patrons for their essential funding and support.

We also thank the ACO's audiences, across Australia and abroad, for their unwavering enthusiasm and love for this wonderful orchestra. And finally, our thanks go to Richard Tognetti and the musicians of the ACO for another year of unforgettable music-making. Long may it continue.

The breadth of these activities... would not be possible without the vital and much-appreciated contributions of our supporters.

For its opening tour of the 2019 Season, the ACO was joined by the famed Estonian Philharmonic Chamber Choir in a celebration of JS Bach and Arvo Pärt.

★★★★½ “Standing on opposite sides of the stage with the ACO seated in between, the Estonian Philharmonic wove these immaculately intricate polyphonic fabrics with unmannered clarity and purity of line.”

– SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, 4 FEBRUARY 2019

★★★★ “The ACO, directed by Richard Tognetti, offered a performance channelling two alternating identities: one of meditative austerity, the other of intricacy and joy.”

– THE AGE, 12 FEBRUARY 2019

“This Australian-Estonian collaboration was a rewarding and stimulating experience.”

Charismatic Italian violinist Lorenza Borrani returned to lead a program of emotionally charged music.

“Italian violinist Lorenza Borrani delivers a fiery, otherworldly concert with the ACO.”

– LIMELIGHT, 15 MARCH 2019

★★★★½ “Guest director and violinist Lorenza Borrani led the Australian Chamber Orchestra with a style that always turned inwards to the music – its subtlety of phrasing, its expressive range and scope and its seriousness of utterance.”

– SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, 19 MARCH 2019

★★★★ “Two striking arrangements of chamber works completed a program of departures, with music that deconstructed the stylistic status quo to build new, innovative forms from its elements.”

– THE AGE, 20 MARCH 2019

“But with Borrani directing with her focus on crisp articulation and style over swagger, it becomes something quite different. This is Beethoven, nearing death, experiencing his whole life passing before his eyes, from his youthful imitations of Haydn at the opening to the glimpses of eternity in the slow movement. In short, a last will and testament, magnificently rendered.”

9–22 MAY

10 CONCERTS | 13,761 TOTAL ATTENDANCE

Saxophonist Branford Marsalis made his ACO debut in a vivid program inspired by Latin American jazz, directed by ACO Principal Violin Satu Vänskä.

“A performance of meticulous cohesion in every detail”

– LIMELIGHT, 13 MAY 2019

★★★★ “Violinist Satu Vänskä led with a sultry opening followed by increasingly fiery strutting rhythms.”

– SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, 28 MAY 2019

“The genius emerges as much in interpretation as in delivery, with Marsalis forming meaning inside each musical melange without appearing to force textures, expression or phrasing; a master blender who makes the oddest flavour combinations work. With principal violinist Satu Vänskä as soloist and director, the ACO finds biting tang in the twist and thrust of Argentinian tango, tending away from the sultry languor offered by Piazzolla and Golijov to embrace crunched strings and stomping rhythmical jabs.”

The ACO's groundbreaking collaboration with photographer Bill Henson returned to concert halls around the country, revived and refreshed, and featuring Israeli-Australian singer-songwriter Lior.

"I left the ACO performance feeling like something had shifted in me. I had seen something that moved me and was beautiful – and somehow the world was not the same place it had been before I went into Hamer Hall... The work had given me a new way of seeing."

– THE GUARDIAN, 14 AUGUST 2019

★★★★★ "A brave and moving piece of art"

– LIMELIGHT, 13 AUGUST 2019

★★★★★ "Much of this Luminous program channels a multifarious identity, the polystylism of Schnittke melding neo-classicism with modernist angst; Pēteris Vasks' violin concerto Distant Light delivered with jaw dropping zeal by Tognetti, fluctuating between cinematic romanticism and a more avant-garde sound-world."

8 CONCERTS | 8,649 TOTAL ATTENDANCE

Croatian-born pianist Dejan Lazić reunited with the ACO for a celebration of Mozart's sparkling symphonies and concertos.

★★★★★ "Lazić played with textural lightness, pearly finger articulation and graceful individuality in musical phrasing. After interval, Tognetti approached the Violin Concerto with welcome imaginative freedom, tapering the opening theme with finesse and drawing on a widely contrasting palette of tone and dynamic to maintain inventive freshness."

– SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, 16 SEPTEMBER 2019

"This well-conceived and executed program speaks eloquently of the ACO's core strengths."

– LIMELIGHT, 10 SEPTEMBER 2019

"Lazić offered a glittering account of both Sonata movement and Concerto, his touch crisp and exuberant. In performance and orchestration, he reveals an intimate knowledge of Mozartean idioms, the twinkling Allegretto grazioso masterfully transformed into concerto form."

– THE AUSTRALIAN, 11 SEPTEMBER 2019

"Lazić is a remarkable talent, building on his reputation here with an interpretation that matched skill with sustained emotional insight."

Brahms & Dvořák

9–22 NOV

11 CONCERTS | 12,019 ATTENDANCE

The final concert in the ACO's National Tour Season was a big, exuberant celebration, featuring two of the most important names in the romantic era.

“The highlight, however, was a ravishing account of Dvořák's richly textured penultimate symphony. Abandoning his violin for the baton, Tognetti was a thoughtful interpreter, shaping fine balances between the bucolic and primal forces tugging away in the outer movements and tapping the work's pervasive threads of melancholy, naivety and splendour.”

– THE AUSTRALIAN, 12 NOVEMBER 2019

★★★★½ “Valve's playing was warmly coloured, while Tognetti's had astringent sweetness and clarity.”

– SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, 18 NOVEMBER 2019

“Dvořák's piece, from beginning to end, was exciting as it was charming. The beginning of the second movement, Adagio, was beauty personified in its expression and the breadth and depth of the sound from the strings.”

Barbican Residency

3, 4 & 5 OCTOBER

3 CONCERTS | 1,503 TOTAL ATTENDANCE

The ACO returned to London in October 2019 for its second season in-residence at the Barbican Centre. The only Australian orchestra to hold an international residency, the season marked the mid-point of the ACO's three-year partnership with the prestigious concert venue.

“This chamber string ensemble has the scope of a symphony orchestra many times its size. The players revelled in the joy of the Goldbergs, finding exhilaration in brisk tempos and daring virtuosity.”

– THE TIMES, 7 OCTOBER 2019

“Tognetti's playing was vigorous and nuanced, with an appropriately clean and transparent tone. But more importantly, he gave all players equal voices, bringing phrases to the surface with a rise and fall and emphasising the different combinations of instruments. All this variety was played with 21st-century style and panache by Tognetti and the ACO, but at its heart this remained pure Bach.”

Premieres & Commissions

GLENN CHRISTENSEN
Violin

In keeping with its commitment to present new music that pushes the boundaries, the ACO gave seven world premieres and seven Australian premieres in its 2019 Season.

World Premieres

HEATHER SHANNON

Richochet
Richochet from a Distance

World premiere at Mozart, Haydn & More by Pekka Kuusisto and ACO Collective, 2 March 2019.

Both works commissioned by the Australian Chamber Orchestra.

“Composer Heather Shannon of indie band The Jezabels served as a conduit between the historical polarities of the music. Her companion pieces, Richochet and Richochet from a Distance, seemed to draw their power equally from the classical aesthetic and the rich, complex textures of the avant-garde.”

– THE AGE, 7 MARCH 2019

PAUL STANHOPE

There's a Sea in My Bedroom

There's a Sea in My Bedroom received its world premiere by a quintet of ACO Collective musicians on 9 May 2019. It was commissioned by the Australian Chamber Orchestra and presented in partnership with the Sydney Opera House.

Based on the beloved children's book by Margaret Wild, There's a Sea in My Bedroom is an immersive introduction to live music and storytelling for children aged 2-7 and their families.

DAN WALKER

Buda: Dja (Carpent Snake)

World premiere at Serenades for Strings by ACO Collective and the Gondwana Indigenous Children's Choir, 19 October 2019.

ANDREW FORD

Fanfare for Neverland

World premiere at Brahms & Dvořák by Visa Haarala and the Australian Chamber Orchestra, 9 November 2019.

“With the hall in darkness, guest principal trumpet, Visa Haarala, from Finland's Tapiola Sinfonietta, stood in the balcony, his bright and happy trumpet true to every note of Australian composer, Andrew Ford's Fanfare for Neverland Solo Trumpet... Haarala produced extraordinary clarity in his playing, delivering a crisp sound that filled the expansive room effortlessly.”

– LIMELIGHT, 10 NOVEMBER 2019

ALEX MILLS

One is Fun

World premiere at Nico Muhly & the New by Pekka Kuusisto and ACO Collective, 4 December 2019.

“The tangential textures threaded through Welsh composer Alex Mills's violin duet, One is Fun, added flashes of complexity to the evening's pervasively minimalist canvas.”

– THE AUSTRALIAN, 6 DECEMBER 2019

NICO MUHLY

Shrink: Concerto for Violin and Strings

World premiere at Nico Muhly & the New by Pekka Kuusisto and ACO Collective, 4 December. Commissioned by the Australian Chamber Orchestra and Melbourne Recital Centre.

“Shrink was Muhly's third world premiere in Australia this year, following two smaller commissions. The prolific composer... has had a long collaboration and friendship with Kuusisto, who met the concerto's ferocious demands with relish.”

– THE AGE, 6 DECEMBER 2019

ACO Instrument Fund

The Instrument Fund welcomed seven new and reinvesting unitholders in 2019, representing $608,797.60 worth of units.

2019 was a year of consolidation and new beginnings for the ACO Instrument Fund. The Fund currently holds four noteworthy Golden Age instruments in its collection: a 1728/29 Stradivari violin, a 1714 Guarneri violin, a 1616 Brothers Amati cello and a 1590 Brothers Amati violin. These four instruments reflected a total value of $9.4m as at the end of the 2019 financial year. The Fund did not acquire any new assets during the calendar year however it continued the search for a fifth rare instrument that will meet its investment objectives.

The ACO has held units throughout the life of the Instrument Fund, and significantly most of these units were donated to the ACO by the Fund's Founding Patron Peter Weiss AO, Fund Director John Leece AM and the late Amina Belgiorno-Nettis. In 2017, the ACO received permission from the donors and their families to sell down these units to new investors so that it could take the Fund to the next phase of its existence. The units sold to investors in 2018 and 2019 predominantly consisted of these donated units, and by the end of 2019, the ACO unitholding was nil and will remain as such until the next instrument acquisition. The ACO is grateful to these donors and their families for their vision and generosity which has paved a genuine foundation for the Fund.

On that note, the Instrument Fund welcomed seven new and reinvesting unitholders in 2019, representing $608,797.60 worth of units. The total number of entities holding units in the Fund at year end came to 49. These include individuals, trusts and foundations, PAFs, SMSFs as well as institutional investor Media Super Limited which has a unitholding of 29.5%.

On 4 July 2019, the Instrument Fund Board undertook an Informal Valuation and, in consideration of recent market valuations of the Fund's assets, the relevant exchange rate movements, provisions for liquidity, and deferred tax liability, resolved to increase the unit price to $1.45 effective 30 June 2019. The unit price of $1.45 compares with a unit price of $1.40 at the end of the 2018 financial year and $1.00 at the Fund's launch in 2011.

The Instrument Fund held four events for current and prospective investors in 2019. They were held on 27 May at the Melbourne office of the Impact Investment Group, on 30 May and 18 September at the ACO's Sydney office, and on 1 December at the home of Gaby Kennard in Byron Bay. The Directors of the Instrument Fund would like to thank all those who volunteered their time and effort to making the events possible, in particular Impact Investment Group and Gaby Kennard for so generously hosting the ACO and the Fund's assets at their beautiful venues.

The ACO would like to acknowledge the contribution of the Instrument Fund's Australian Financial Services Licence holder, JBWere Ltd and the Board of Directors of the Fund; Bill Best (Chair), Jessica Block, Edward Gilmartin, John Leece, Julie Steiner AM and John Taberner. Finally we wish to acknowledge and thank the unitholders and their investments in the Instrument Fund, for the incalculable emotional and cultural value they bring to the ACO and the wider ACO community at large.

TALENT DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

The ACO is committed to supporting and providing opportunities for young Australian string players. Our Talent Development programs:

- foster emerging young talent by providing the highest quality training and mentoring;
- provide critical pathways into the ACO and other professional music careers, and;
- are highly impactful, potentially changing the trajectory of these young musicians' lives.

ACO Academy

Presented by BNP Paribas

Twenty-four talented string players, aged 11-18, were selected to participate in our annual ACO Academy program during the July school holidays. Led by ACO violinist Aiko Goto, students participated in a week of intensive learning, rehearsals, chamber music and ensemble performances alongside ACO musicians. The week culminated in a professional performance at City Recital Hall with an audience of over 750 people.

“The ACO Academy orchestra was by far the best ensemble I have ever played in, and it made me feel happy and emotional inside. I could really feel my own playing improve during the Academy from what I was learning and rehearsing each day. Even now when I play at home, I can still hear the difference in my playing. I am so grateful for this experience that will stay with me for my entire life, and the friends I have made.”

TALENT DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

Emerging Artist Program

The ACO's Emerging Artist program connects the next generation of talented young Australian string players with the professional members of the ACO.

EACH EMERGING ARTIST RECEIVES:

- Paid, intensive chamber music rehearsals and chamber orchestra performances with members of the ACO;
- The opportunity to tour with ACO Collective, working alongside Artistic Director Pekka Kuusisto, guest directors and ACO musicians in a professional setting;
- Private lessons with an ACO mentor;
- Audition preparation; and
- Access to ACO rehearsals and concerts.

THE 2019 EMERGING ARTISTS WERE:

- William Huxtable violin
- Gemma Lee violin
- Mana Ohashi violin
- Harry Ward violin
- Molly Collier-O'Boyle viola
- Mariette Reefman viola
- James Morley cello
- Jaan Pallandi double bass

“My year spent as an ACO Emerging Artist was such an incredible and influential experience for me as a young musician. I gained invaluable skills in chamber musicianship, received outstanding individual mentoring and doorways have opened for me where otherwise I did not know they existed. I would recommend to any colleague pursuing this pathway to fight to be a part of this world-class training program.”

– MOLLY COLLIER-O'BOYLE, 2019 VIOLA EMERGING ARTIST

EDUCATION & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT HIGHLIGHTS

Early Experiences

Early experiences have a critical impact on a person's life. Our flagship early years programs:

- ignite a love of music from an early age;
- make arts and cultural experiences accessible to all children and families; and
- open doors and increase aspirations for the future.

Early Years Concerts

In 2019 the ACO launched a new initiative: a series of concerts designed for young children and their families. The aim was to commission and create a sophisticated theatrical work which blends story and newly composed classical music in an accessible format for young people.

Weaving together captivating storytelling with a newly composed score performed by a quintet of ACO Collective musicians, There's a Sea in My Bedroom was an immersive introduction to live music, capturing the magic of a child's fantasy world. There's a Sea in My Bedroom was performed 24 times over a two-week season in the Utzon Room at Sydney Opera House to over 4,000 young people and their families.

“As soon as I read ACO and children's book in the same sentence I couldn't book fast enough. My four-year old grandson was completely enchanted by his first visit to the Sydney Opera House and first experience of a live performance. Archie was completely fascinated by the creation of the world of the story and especially by the musicians and their instruments. A magical first experience of theatre for one small boy.”

EDUCATION & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT HIGHLIGHTS

ACO Foundations

ACO Foundations aims to improve the academic and developmental outcomes for children through the study of music. The pedagogical model is informed by scientific and social research and introduces string playing into the school curriculum in a co-teaching design between the classroom teacher and an ACO music educator. A critical component of the program is that students practise their instruments every day for 15-minutes during class time, alongside weekly lessons by ACO instrumental teachers.

In 2018 we established a pilot program with one class of 25 students at St Marys North Public School. 2019 saw these students continue into their second year of the program. The benefits have proven to be significant, with noticeable improvements in the students' physical, cognitive and behavioural development. Participants are showing improved writing, reading and auditory skills, and teachers have seen an increase in their focus and concentration.

“We can build a world inside our gates that is filled with the belief that our students can achieve, they are important, they have options. By improving the equity of access to a rich music education, we open doors. With ACO’s help, our students will have access to improved learning outcomes in their formative years, and more importantly, they too will be able to dream of a future filled with endless possibilities.”

– LISA PARELLO, PRINCIPAL AT ST MARYS NORTH PUBLIC SCHOOL

“Simply put I just wanted to offer my sincere gratitude for the opportunity the ACO has provided my daughter and the new avenues it has opened for her. She is considering music as a study and career path which she would not have done without her involvement in the program.”

– ACO FOUNDATIONS PARENT.

Community Engagement

Our Community Engagement programs target under-served communities, including young adults with disability, children experiencing illness, Indigenous students, and music students in regional or remote areas. All projects offer participants a chance to explore their creativity alongside ACO musicians in collaborative arts experiences.

Royal Children's Hospital Melbourne

The ACO Inspire Quartet visited the hospital in 2019 to deliver workshops and performances for young patients during school holiday periods. The quartet delivered interactive, educational experiences for children in the hospital school and visited the wards for performances which offer light relief to children, families, and staff.

Melbourne Indigenous Transition School (MITS)

In August 2019 the ACO collaborated with MITS and Swinburne University to work with Year 7 students in creative storytelling workshops. Students worked with experts at Swinburne University to create stop-motion animations, telling their own stories in their own languages. Students then worked with ACO Inspire Quartet musicians over five intensive sessions to develop musical soundscapes for their animation. The result is a professionally made short film of their stories and music.

ACO Move

A series of workshops for young adults with disability which integrate movement with live music. In 2019 we again delivered a series of sessions in the ACO Studio in which participants worked alongside ACO musicians in creative and collaborative music making sessions, culminating in an informal performance of their own work.

Corporate Governance Statement

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE STATEMENT

INTRODUCTION

This statement outlines the Australian Chamber Orchestra's (ACO) corporate governance practices and addresses the updated Essential Governance Practice Principles published and monitored by the Australia Council for the Arts. These principles are based on the recommendations published by the ASX Corporate Governance Council, 3rd Edition.

The ACO's Governance Manual was prepared and progressively adopted by the Board during 2007. The implementation of the governance practices embodied in the Manual ensures that the ACO achieves compliance with the Governance Practice Principles and the ACNC Governance Standards.

The Board is committed to further strengthening its governance practices progressively through 2020 to ensure compliance with the updated Principles. Its compliance with each of the Principles with reference to the relevant sections of the ACO's Governance Manual, is outlined below.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE STATEMENT

PRINCIPLE 1:

Lay Solid Foundations for Management and Oversight

The ACO's Governance Manual incorporates Board and Committee Charters (S.1.1), a Code of Conduct (S.3.1) and Director selection (S.2.2) and induction processes (S.1.2).

The Board Charter sets out the duties and responsibilities of the Board with regard to the Company's overall operations, performance and compliance.

PRINCIPLE 2:

Structure the Board to Add Value

The ACO is committed to having a Board of effective composition, size and commitment to adequately discharge its responsibilities and duties.

The ACO's Governance Manual defines the role of the Chairman (S.2.1), the processes for selection, appointment and renewal of directors (S.2.2) and the Board performance review process (S.6).

The Board includes Directors with a range of skills including finance and accounting, business (public companies, small business and not-for-profit) and commercial experience, public affairs, law, human resources, fundraising and philanthropy, orchestral music management and education and outreach. This experience is set out in their biographies published in the Annual Financial Report. All Directors are independent.

The Board is supported by its Nominations and Remuneration Committee in the recruitment of new Directors and the process for evaluating Board performance. The Committee Charter (Governance Manual S.2.3) establishes the primary functions of the Committee.

PRINCIPLE 3:

Act Ethically and Responsibly

The ACO's Code of Conduct (Governance Manual S.3.1) is the formal expression of the Company's values and ethics that:

- set the standard of ethical behaviour required of directors and officers;
- ensure compliance with legal and other obligations; and
- promote responsibility and accountability of individuals for reporting and investigating reports of unethical practices.

The ACO's procedures for handling conflicts of interest, actual or potential, are embodied in the Governance Manual "Conflict of Interest" (S.3.2).

PRINCIPLE 4:

Ensure Diversity

The ACO aims to foster an organisational culture that embraces diversity. During 2019 an ACO Diversity & Inclusion Policy was developed in conjunction with an organisational review of policies. The Diversity & Inclusion Policy incorporates our EEO Principles and outlines our commitment to providing both a diverse and inclusive workplace for potential and existing employees.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE STATEMENT

PRINCIPLE 5:

Safeguard Integrity in All Reporting

The ACO has processes in place that independently verify and safeguard the integrity of the organisation's compliance and management reporting.

The Finance, Audit and Risk Management (FARM) Committee Charter (Governance Manual S.4.1.) sets out its composition, functions and responsibilities. This Committee meets prior to every Board meeting and comprises up to three Directors and, by invitation, the Managing Director and the Chief Financial Officer and includes members with appropriate audit, finance and risk management expertise.

This Committee's responsibilities and duties cover review of the Company's management and statutory accounts and accounting policies and the results of the annual audit as well as making recommendations to the Board on the appointment, reappointment or replacement, remuneration and monitoring of the effectiveness of the external auditors.

PRINCIPLE 6:

Engage with Stakeholders

The ACO respects and observes its legal and other obligations, including the rights of all legitimate stakeholders. These principles are enshrined in the Company's Compliance Policy (Governance Manual S.6.1) and Stakeholder Communication Strategies (S.6.2).

The Board has the ultimate responsibility for overseeing the performance and activities of management and for legal and regulatory compliance.

To assist the Board in discharging its responsibility in relation to compliance, the Board has delegated the monitoring and review of compliance to the FARM Committee. An Annual Compliance Calendar is maintained in order to monitor requirements and reporting obligations.

The Board's duties and responsibilities specifically include ensuring effective communication with key stakeholders. The Code of Conduct sets the standard of ethical behaviour required of Directors and Officers, including ensuring that all stakeholders are recognised for the contributions they make and ensuring full, fair and understandable disclosure in reporting and public communications.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE STATEMENT

PRINCIPLE 7:

Recognise & Manage Risk

The ACO has established a sound system of risk oversight and management and internal control. This system is designed to identify, assess, monitor and manage risk. The Company's risk management policy (S.5.1), responsibilities (S.5.2) and processes for review of the risk management system (S.5.3) are set out in the Governance Manual. The policies are further delineated in the company's Risk Management Plan.

The Board has the ultimate responsibility for overseeing the risk management framework and monitoring business risks and is assisted in discharging this responsibility by the FARM Committee whose responsibilities in relation to the Company's risk management system are contained in the Committee's charter.

Organisational risk is under continual review. In accordance with the ACO's Risk Management Plan, the FARM Committee considers the Company's risk profile as part of the annual strategy and budget setting process and in turn reports to the Board.

In conjunction with the recent organisational review of policies, the ACO's WHS Management System was reviewed and updated in 2019. This System provides for regular consultation with employees, mechanisms for WHS risk management, reporting of incidents and injuries, a workers' compensation framework and training of employees. WHS reports are prepared for each meeting of the FARM Committee and Board.

PRINCIPLE 8:

Remunerate Fairly & Responsibly

The ACO is committed to ensuring that the level and composition of remuneration is sufficient and reasonable and that its relationship to organisational and individual performance is defined.

The Company's Remuneration Policy (S.7.1) and Processes (S.7.2) are set out in the Governance Manual. The Board's Nominations and Remunerations Committee is responsible for reviewing and recommending to the Board the remunerations of the Managing Director and the Artistic Director. Staff and executive salaries are approved by the Board as part of the annual budget approval process. As a not-for-profit charitable institution, payment of any fees or salaries to directors of the Company is prohibited, in accordance with its constitution.
