ABOUT THE AUSTRALIAN CHAMBER ORCHESTRA

Under the leadership of Artistic Director, Richard Tognetti AO, the ACO has become one of the world's most acclaimed and adventurous chamber ensembles—renowned for electrifying performances, bold collaborations, and a spirit of innovation that continues to push the artform forward.

Regular international tours see the ACO perform at many of the world's great concert halls across North America, Europe, and Japan.

The Orchestra has also delivered exclusive private performances in New York, Tokyo, Paris, Berlin and London—including two intimate concerts for King Charles III at St James' Palace and Buckingham Palace.

“One of the most precise, cutting-edge virtuoso string ensembles to be found anywhere in the world”

ABOUT ACO US

In recent years, the ACO has built a dynamic and growing presence in New York through ACO US, Inc., an independent nonprofit 501(c)(3). This dedicated organization supports the Orchestra's expanding artistic activity in the United States, creating new opportunities for American audiences to experience, engage with, and champion the ACO.

2026 & Beyond

The ACO tours to the US in April 2026, including a return to Carnegie Hall for one night only.

In 2027 we aim to return for concerts in California and New York, including an education component in Los Angeles at the Colburn School.
